46, Hancock 65. LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 9 .- [Special to the BEE.]-The day has been occupied in counting the dead and living participants in the recent election. The bad weather and the condition of the roads made it impossible for the country precincts in the county to report until to-day, and the figures published in the BEE yesterday vary but slightly. Judge Maxwell will have at least 2,200 majority over O'Day in Lancaster county, his vote being fully as large as Governor Thayer's a year ago. The prohibition vote has shrunk away and instead of having the bombastic 2,000 votes in the county, claimed by their orators, their vote will not exceed 600 and is a radical falling off from former elections. The democratic vote was very light and one-third of the republican vote was not cast. The returns from the country precincts show that not over a half a vote was polled in the different precincts. As closely as the canvass was made, the scratching on the district judgeship puzzled both sides until the count was made. Sam M. Chapman receives about 2,200 majority in the county, notwithstanding that the democrats voted for Hayden and had his name on all the tickets. The contest between Field on all the tickets. The contest between Field and Sawyer, where the fight centered, resulted in Field carrying all the city wards with a majority in the city over Sawyer of 657. The country precincts, which are all in but three, give Field 21 [majority, which added to his city majority, gives him 868 majority over Sawyer in Lancaster county. Telegraphic reports from Cass county received at republican headquarters indicate that Field is ahead of Sawyer in Cass county about 275, and the latest report from Otoe county indi-and the latest report from Otoe county indi-cated that Sawyer had carried that county by 850, which will leave Fields majority in the district about 800. The fact that Mr. Sawyer campaigned as an anti-prohibitionist in Cass and Otoe counties and tied up with the prohi qitionists in this county, is asserted by many to be one of the principal causes that contrib uted to his defeat, and the vote in the city would indicate that there was a reactionary feeling abroad from the time when Sawver was elected mayor. The republican county ticket has majorities in the entire county ranging from 1,500 for Melick, for sheriff, to 2,500 for Rocke, for treasurer. A great many democrats not satisfied with the great many democrats not satisfied with the removal of Humphrey, democratic candidate for treasurer in favor of Helmer, the prohibition candidate, to offset the withdrawal of one of the prohibition candidates for judge in favor of Sawyer, voted the republican ticket and largely aided in building republican majorities. In the city Sizer, for clerk of the courts, has 1,306 majority; Bell, for county clerk, 1,331; Melick, for sheriff, 1,083, and Rocke, for treasurer, 1,568. Stewart for county judge, Knight for register of deeds, Diekson for commissioner and the miner nominees on the republican ticket have majorities averaging with the rest of the majorities averaging with the rest of the ticket. Three precincts, Stevens Creek, Buda and Stockton, are yet to be heard from and as soon as the returns are in County Clerk Bell will proceed to the canvass of the vote so that the official vote will be known in a very short time. Judge Chapman arrived in the city yesterday from Plattsmouth and was the recipient of many congratulations.

Albion, Neb., Nov. 9.—Boone county gave the state and judicial republican ticket a majority of 500. The republican county ticket

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Ber.]—The republicans of Hall county have elected a full ticket with the exception of sheriff, by majorities ranging from two to three hundred. This city was very close. The republicans elected all the supervisors but the democrats had the the supervisors, but the democrats had ten majority on the whole ticket. It is a republican victory, as the democrats fully ex-pected to carry the county. The vote was heavy, and both parties worked hard.

AURORA, Neb. Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Bre.]—The election passed off very quietly in Aurora and throughout the county. It was a dull, drizzly day, and very little demonstration was manifested, although a full vote was polled, both parties being determined to test the measure of their strength. The democrats made a determined effort to elect the sheriff, W. Z. Pollard, and the cour ty superintendent, Miss Lou Armel, Many republicans supported Miss Armel because she is a woman, and as Pollard had been sheriff once before, and a very good one, some of them seemed to think he should be again This precinct is conceded to the democrats by seventy-five or a hundred majority. Au rora precinct cast the largest vote it ever Franker, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Bez.]—The election passed off quietly here to-day. Only 868 votes polled. The republican and people's county tickets are close. There was a great deal of scratching. The counting is slow. The counting is slow. The republican Lour City, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Bes.]—Sherman county elects the entire farmers and tax payers' ticket by a good majority. Stalwartism counts for nothing here. The people voted for men, not party.

Holdrege, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special to the Ber.]—The election in this county passed off very quictly, but little if any over a two-thirds votes being polied. The full republican ticket is elected by a handsome majority, according to present indications. Returns are not in yet from half of the townships. Judge Gasiln ond Mr. Hopwood received nearly every vote in the county.

Norselk, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Saccial to the Brr.]—Returns are coming in very slowly. It is thought that in this (Madison) county the democrats have elected their candidates for sheriff, treasurer, clerk, superintendent and possibly others. Nothing has been received to indicate the result of the judicial ticket in this district. It is believed, however, that the republicans have elected Powers. ever, that the republicans have elected Powers and Norris. Crawford's vote in this city fell below the estimate of his friends. His vote in this precinct was 346; Powers, 591; Norris, 221. O'Day's majority over Maxwell in this precinct is 137.

SEWARD, Neb. Nev. 9.—[Special to the BER, [-The entire remultican third.]

years that all the republicans voted. The democrats now admit that their smut mill very materially injured them. A bitter fight was waged against C. E. Hellman, candidate for county judge, but after all the efforts against him, he made his fight clean-handed and triumphed. For years the democrats had the offices of county clerk and sheriff but to-day Cooper in the former and Smiley in the latter have the honor of redeeming them for the republicans. The entire vote in the latter have the honor of redeeming them for the republicans. The entire vote has not yet been received here so that the exact figures cannot be given. The entire county vote will fall 500 short of one year ago. The court house bonds are perhaps defeated by a small majority. Republicans will have a good working majority in the board of supervisors. The city of Seward polled 446 votes of which the republicans received 290, the democrats 144 and the prohibitionists 12.

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Ber.]—Official returns from Dodge county show the election of treasurer, clerk and superintendent by the republicans. The democrats get the balance of the ticket. Judge Marshal has received returns from the fourth judicial district sufficient to to show his election by at least 1,700 majority. Dodge county gives him 800 majority, all the other counties in the district give him majorities but Platto. bitionists 12.

Dakota City, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Ber.]—The returns are not all in from over the county, but from reliable reports the full democratic ticket with the exception of sheriff, was elected. In Omadi precinct about 100 Winnebago Indians voted, each one being sworn, and their votes challenged. The precinct will no doubt be contested. The following county ticket was elected: Treasurer, Frank Dovey; clerk, Joseph P. Twopig: sheriff. Nyck Brasfield; superintendent, William T. Bartlett; coroner, Frank Sawyer; Judge, C. B. Wilbur.

WAYNE, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Ber.]—Maxwell's majority in Wayne county is over 300. Norris has probably 150

FAIRBURY, Neb., Nov. 9,—[Special Telegram to the BER.]—The returns of yesterday's election are in. Every candidate on the straight republican ticket—state, county and precinct—is elected. Not for fifteen years have the republicans elected their entire ticket until yesterday and they feel much tire ticket until yesterday and they feel much

DAVID CITY, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The election here was hotly contested. Three precincts are yet unheard from, but it is evident that the republicans have carried the county by 100 majority. The vote on Maxwell is estimated at short 1 250 on Marshall 1 315. Past 1 227 at about 1,250, on Marshall 1,345, Post 1,227 Gilkerson 1,155, Sullivan 1,072. The repub licans have elected the entire county ticket. Last year the county went 100 democratic and this year not over fifteen straight democratic tickets were polled.

The entire vote in the county of the two tickets aggregate 2,004, and there were probably 30 or 40 prohibition votes cast.

There is probably in the county a voting population of 2,700. PLATTE CENTER, Neb., Nov. 9.—[Special Telegram to the Bez.]—The town is ablaze with bondires, anyils firing and the Platte Center brass band is parading the streets and for the first time in the history of Platte county the democrats are celebrating with the republicans over the defeat of unpopular nominees on the democratic ticket. It was s Waterloo for bad men and a victory for good men and good government.

THE LAST APPEAL FOR MERCY

Friends of the Condemned Anarchists Before Governor Oglesby.

BLACK'S PATHETIC ADDRESS.

It Brings Tears to the Eyes of His Auditors-The Habeas Corpus Proceedings-Yesterday at the Jail-Nina.

Amnesty Delegates at Springfield. Springfield, Ills., Nov. 9 .- A large crowd stood on the platform at the depot this morning waiting to see the Chicago delegation which has come to interceed with Governor Oglesby in behalf of the condemned anarchists. On the arrival of the train the delegation at once proceeded to the capitol. It consists of Captain and Mrs. W. P. Black, General M. D. Trumbull, L. S. Oliver, A. C. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond, William M. Salter, George A. Schilling, R. M. Barkley, H. Jestmann, P. Knichren, M. Schindinger, E. A. Stevens, E. Goettscher, John J. Lane, J. R. Buchanan, H. W. Spies, C. S. Spies, Mrs. Spies, Miss G. Spies, Mrs. M. Schwab, Mrs. E. Fischer, Miss L. C. Schmidt, and perhaps others. After break fasting the delegation repaired to the capitol, and by 9 o'clock a very large number of the citizens of Springfield had gathered there. At 9:30 o'clock Governor Oglesby entered the reception room of the executive department and announced his readiness to hear anything that the representatives of the condemned anarchists might have to say. Thereupon Captain Black, senior counsel for the anarchists, presented the formal application for elemency of August Spies, Michael Schwab and Samuel Fielden. He stated that it was not signed by Parsons, Fischer, Engel and Lingg, for the reason, as he alleged, that they had sent a personal application to the governor and therefore deemed it unnecessary to sign the petition in question. This petition was quite lengthy. It recited the history of the alleged offense for which the petitioners had been sondemned. It affirmed that none of them either threw the fatal bomb or advised its throwing, that they had no knowledge of the fact that it was to had no knowledge of the fact that it was to be thrown, that they always had counselled and encouraged peace. Considerable space was devoted to an attempt to show that they had not had a fair trial, and indeed, that such trial was impossible in Chicago, in view of the state of public sentiment at the time it took place. Captain Black presented an afficavit from Otis S. Favor, a reputable busi-ness man of Chicago, tending to show that the jury which tried the anarchists, had been deliberately nacked against them by deliberately packed against them by the bailiff. After reading the petition and affida-vits, Captain Black addressed the governor. He explained that every effort had been made to comply with the requirements of law goveruing applications for the interposition of executive elemency and stated chat Judge Gary and States Attorney Grinnel had joined in a recommedation for Fielden and Schwab. Having disposed of the mere formal part of Having disposed of the mere formal part of the application he made an eloquent and touching appeal for merey that brought tears to the eyes of many of his auditors. General Trumbull followed Captain Black and simply asked for merey, in plain and unpretentious terms. Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, representative of the amnesty association, was next speaker. She had evidently carefully prepared for the occasion and spoke without hesitation and well. She argued that public policy and justice opposed capital punishment generally and pleaded earnestly and eloquently for the wives, mothers and children of the condemned. Hon, E. M. Haines, of Waukegan, Ills., followed. He asked for commutation Ills., followed. He asked for commutation of sentence on the grounds of justice and public policy. His address was characteristic and amused rather than convinced. He ex-plained that he approved of his own motion.

Senator Streeter, of the legislative commit-tee, was the next speaker. He was brief and an adjournment until 2 o'clock p. m. followed his address. The visitors have a trunk full of petitions with them. Among other papers the following will be presented: To His Excellency Richard J. Oglesby— Dear Sir: As supplemental to the petition heretofore signed by me I desire to say, that I realize that many utterances of mine in connection with the labor agitation of the past, expressions made under intense excite were injudicious and immature. gret, believing that they must have had gret, believing that they must have had a tendency to excite to unnecessary violence oftentimes. I protest again that I had no thought or purpose of violence in connection with the Haymarket meeting. I did not attend and I have always deplored the result of that meeting. Respectfully, MICHAEL SCHWAB. Superior Court, Cook county, Nov. 8, 1887.—I have to-day been presanted with what is called the supplemental petition of Michael Schwab. As I have said on the application of Samuel Fielden, it is only necessary as to the case itself to refer to the decision of the supreme court. With regard to the special case of Michael Schwab, I concur in what Mr. Grinnell has attached to the copy of the petition of Samuel Fielden. Re spectfully, Joseph E. Gary.

The friends of the anarchists held a meet ing at the Island hotel at noon and selected persons to address the governor during the af-ternoon. They met the governor at his office at 2:15. Messrs Bailey and Campbell of the Chicago trades assembly spoke, followed by William Orville and L. S. Oliver, of Chicago; William Shellburg, of Detroit; Representa-tive C. G. Dixon, of Chicago; Mr. Gompers, of the central labor union of New York; J. of the central labor union of New York; J.
E. Quinn, master workman, and Frank Far-rell, representing District Assembly 49 of New York, and George Schilling of Chicago. Salter presented a petition from the iron moulders of the union of Chicago, to which two of the deceased policemen at one time belonged, ask-ing for elements. He closed the addresses ing for elemency. He closed the addresses by a short speech. The governor granted a private interview to the friends and relatives of the anarchists in his office. The governor has given no expression as to his intentions, and it is not likely that any decision will be given. It was said this afternoon that Spies' rother would lay a letter before the governor from Spies this evening. It is claimed that Grinnell said in his speech that if Spies should be hung the law would be satisfied. In his letter Spies asked that the sentence of his comrades be commuted and that he may die, thereby satisfying Grinnell's demand.

Messrs, W. M. Salter, H. D. Lloyd and S.
P. McConnell, of Chicago, were accorded a lengthy hearing by Governor Oglesby, ex-tending from 5 until 6:15 p. m. Mr. Salter was the bearer of numerous petitions, among them those signed by Judges Tully, Moran, Baker, McAllister, ex-Judge Booth, Marvin Hughitt, W. C. Goudy, Hen. Lyman Trum-bull and other prominent citizens of Chicago. Lloyd delivered an appeal, reciting the history of this celebrated case and giving rea-sons why executive elemency can be properly extended. The governor listened to these gentlemen with the closest attention and talked with them freely about the situation. An Associated press reporter interviewed Mr. Salter this evening as to the character of his talk with the governor and his impression of the latter's purpose. Mr. Salter said he was not at liberty to tell all the governor said, but he would say that his excellency was labering with the question and spoke frankly of the difficulty of the situation. Salter told the governor that if he had waited in Chicago until this evening he could have brought many more names down. The governor replied "I am glad you did not wait, for I must, in justice to these men, decide the question be-fore me very soon. It will not do to delay much longer." The governor asked the gentlemen a number of questions and seemed de-sirous to learn everything about the case and the feeling of the citizens of Chicago that they could tell him. Quiet at the Jail. Chicago, Nov. 9 .- [Special Telegrain to the Bez.] -- The intense though subdued excitement which has prevailed around the deeper. And there in their

was considerably lessened this morning, and had it not been for the number of newspaper men on deck the casual observer would have seen nothing in the condition of affairs to indicate that day after to-morrow is the one fixed for the greatest and most sensational execution in the history of Cook county. There were probably two reasons for this, The first, and perhaps the most potent, was that it was a wet day. There is not and never has been a greater allayer of public excitement than a thoroughly wet day. It dampens people's ardor as well as their clothes. It was with feelings of the greatest satisfaction that all those who have the preservation of good order and quiet in their keeping when they opened their eyes this morning and found that the sky was overcast and gave promise of a thoroughly wet day to come. The firemen were glad because a long dry spell of weather has made everything of combustible nature sere and inflammable, and should any serious fire have broken out the difficulty of subduing it and keeping it within manageable bounds would have been all the greater. They hall the rain as a fire preventative and a fire subduer as the fireman's best friend. The policemen, too, were glad to see the rain. It lightened their duties immensely when they saw it coming, as they were sure they would have no big unmanage able crowd anywhere to-day to wrestle with. As a means of keeping the people quiet in their homes a thoroughty wet day is unsurpassed in its efficacy. The sheriff and the jail officials were delighted to see it, as their experience has taught them that they would have a quiet day at the jail and be left free from the importunity of the morbidly curious, who keep pleading for an opportunity to have just one look at the anarchists, and in this they were not disappointed, for the calls at the jail to day on the part of the public were few and far between. The second elewere few and far between. The second clement of the comparative quiet that prevailed was the absence of the majority of the immediate friends of the condemned seven in Springfield for the purpose of doing what they can there to secure commutation of the sentence for all the condemned, or, if they find that beyond their power, for as many of them as possible. Their absence made the proceedings over at the jail exceedingly monotonous this morning, and all the prisoners had an exceedingly dull time of it. They were not allowed out of their cells for exercise, and some of them spent the forencon in bed. Lings and Engel were invisible the greater portion of the time, and Fielden too, spent a good portion of his time reclining on his cot. Spies kept a lamp burning in his on his cot. Spies kept a lamp burning in his cell all morning, though he did not seem to be specially employed in either reading or writing. He had a number of long conversations with Mr. Osborne, the death watch, and seemed to be restless and nervous. Parameters and seemed to be restless and nervous. and seemed to be restless and nervous. Parsons seemed to be in an extremely moody frame of mind. He was irritable and cross, the bitterness of his feelings apparently increasing as the end approaches. The newspaper men tried, on several occasions, to get him to talk to them across the cage, but he only returned them haughty, unsatisfactory replies to all their questions. He sat straining his eyes to read the newspapers in the dim light of his gloomy cell, and all his acts bespoke a mind disturbed and ill at ease. The only member of the families of the condemned men who gained admittance to the The only member of the families of the condemned men who gained admittance to the jail this morning was Mrs. Engel. Sheriff Matson was around the jail as usual this morning, but he is slow to make any of his arrangements for the execution public, his reason for this being to avoid the possibility of any interferance with them before they can be carried into effect. The unanimous opinion around the jail which amounts almost to moral certainty to day, is that there will be five executions Friday, and that the sentences of Fielden and Schwab will be commuted. Should this turn out to be true, the expectation is that Sheriff Matson will be notified of the governor's intention in the notified of the governor's intention in the matter before anybody else, and it is thought that the governor may take the precaution of sending a special messenger to him, as soon ns he arrives at his decision. Should be receive notice to day that the sentence of any of the men has been commuted, it is believed he will at once, and as quietly as can be, hus-them off to the penitentiary. It is just possible that some of them may find themselves there before to-morrow morning. Such, at least, is the outside talk. The sheruf himself has avoided giving any clue to his own intentions in the matter.

In the matter.

In the meantime the prisoners are guarded with the closest scrutiny. The watch at their cells has been trebled, and none of the other prisoners in the jail are allowed near their cells. When Osborne, the death watch, was released at noon to day he talked to the re porters of his experience with the condemned men. He said Spies was entertaining a strong hope in regard to the commutation of his sentence, but is perfectly calm and unmoved in view of death. He considers himself a second John Brown and says he represents a principle for which he is perfectly willing that he should be sacrificed. Schwab, he said, was very gloomy and depressed to-day. He had been full of foreboding all night, and the depression of spirits hung over him all forenoon to-day. Later, however, he seemed to be rallying a little and was in better spirits just before Mr. Osborne left him than at any other time since yesterday noon.

No More Exercise. CHICAGO, Nov. 9 .- The anarchists were not let out in the exercise court this morning. Jailer Folz said that Lingg shall be let out no more until he is taken out for the last time. Visitors were restricted and in a remote part of the jail a few trusted deputies were perfecting final preliminaries needful to the erection of the gallows. As yet this instrument of death has not been removed from the storage room, but everything is in readiness to go forward with the executionsthat is, everything except the more joining together of the frame work of the gallows, but that can be done in a very little while. For the first time since the supreme court passed the case Nina Van Zandt was to-day denied admission. She tolled up the iron stairs in the rain, opened the storm door and took shelter in the enclosed entry. A moment later her white face appeared in the jail enclusure and in humble tone she was asked to be allowed in. The doorkeeper shook his head, saying that orders had been given to keep her out. Jailor Folz was back somewhere in the cage. She sent for him. He came out and in a kindly but very positive tone informed her he was obliged to refuse her entrance. She remained where she was, helding on to the iron bars as if not comprehending what was said. The jailer continued:
"Spies is locked up. He can't be let out of his cell and you could not see him anyway, if you did come in." "Slowly the young woman turned away. She groped her way down stairs in the rain, and with painful steps she went out through the fail yard and turned down an alley.

But the juil door was opened while Miss Van Zandt was on the threshold. It was so opened for aged Mrs. Engel, who was accorded a brief interview with her husband. None other of the wives or relatives of the anarchists called to see them this morning. They remained unvisited, with the single exception of Fielden, who had a caller in the person of Rev. Dr. Balton. Spies, Parsons and Lingg remained away out of sight, back in their cells. There was no noise or move-in their cells. There was no noise or movement of any kind to be noted. The rain falling on the sheet-iron roof was all that broke the stiliness, except now and then the heavy tread of officials going hither and thither to attend to preparations for Friday's work.
